Re: Protect League City residents from San Jacinto Superfund waste

Dear Mr. Miller:

I have heard lots in the news about the EPA's options for cleaning up the San Jacinto Waste Pits. As a resident of League City, I am weary of flooding due to tropical storms, hurricanes, or other heavy storms. Being so close to Clear Creek, Clear Lake, Nassau Bay, and Galveston Bay, my neighbors and I have seen lots of issues with inclement weather in recent years.

The last thing I want to worry about during these storms is whether or not my family and I will suffer damage to our health from an avoidable place. I've seen in the news that there is a high potential for exposure to hazardous materials during a nearly 2 year removal process, especially if flooding occurs.

I strongly urge you and your colleagues to recommend making the current cap into a permanent one to keep the hazardous waste safely where it is. Removal is not a safe option for us near the Superfund site. For the sake of all of us in League City, do not make our fears of flooding even worse.

Sincerely,
